

At Courageous Thinking we have a passion for asking the BIG questions.

What Adventure will YOU create in 2022?

It takes courage to ask ourselves the tough questions – but when we do, we uncover truth – and the meaning of our lives becomes clear. When we wrestle with the right BIG questions – we gain the clarity that enables us to make the decisions that bring joy, adventure and success to our lives.

As you run full throttle into 2022 we challenge you to take a glance at these five questions, then schedule 30 minutes with a journal (or keyboard) to write down your answers – reflecting on what you've learned about yourself this past year. A little 'self-inventory' goes a long way in gaining perspective – before setting goals and direction.

With gratitude and anticipation for an Adventurous 2022 ~ Linda Lindquist

1

What went RIGHT – added joy to 2021?

Relationships, work, adventure – discipline; health, intellectual, emotional, spiritual? Pursuits that I will continue/increase in 2022.

2

What are the things I did WRONG in 2021, and what did I learn from these experiences?

These are the things I want to change, not do again or restructure in 2022.

3

What or who in my life is CONFUSING?

This could be a relationship, best use of my time, career values or my life direction. In 2022, I want to gain clarity in these areas.

4

What or who is MISSING from my life?

Perhaps joy, adventure, financial security, health, life margin or a relationship? These are voids that I want to address or fill in 2022.

After you've mulled over, and wrestled with the questions above – ask yourself:
What is the biggest CHALLENGE that lights me up in 2022?
